Introduction

The Silicon Valley Bicycle Coalition (SVBC) would like to thank the Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTC) for the opportunity to partner in gathering feedback about equitable access on the San Francisco Bay Trail. As the scope of work focused on San Mateo County, so does the feedback in this report. Although our stakeholders are a geographically diverse group, we did not exclude anyone from outside San Mateo County.

SVBC conducted two Listening Sessions, two in-person events, and a survey in both English and Spanish. Through all of these outreach efforts, SVBC engaged with about 150 people. This report will summarize these events, stakeholder feedback and provide staff recommendations for Phase II of the MTC's Bay Trail Equity Strategy.

Summary of Listening Sessions

● Listening Session 1 - Stakeholder Feedback

On Wednesday April 19th, 2023, SVBC hosted a virtual listening session with its bicycle advocates to hear from participants about ways the Bay Trail can be more accessible to all who patronize it. This listening session had about 50 participants and was a part of SVBC's "Biketivist Forum" monthly programming which brings together professionals, advocates, and local leaders to discuss the most pressing topics in active transportation, sustainability, and the development of livable communities.

The forum presentation covered background on the Equity Platform, MTC's development of a Bay Trail Equity Strategy, and the SVBC's partnership with the agency. The workshop began with staff using Mentimeter, a visual presentation tool, to poll participants and collect succinct feedback to the following questions:

- The Bay Trail is...
- Think of your favorite spot along the Bay. Why is it welcoming to you?
- What things would you like to see added to the Bay Trail that might invite you to use the Bay Trail more?

The following are screenshots of the Mentimeter polling responses:

Themes From Discussion

Current use of the Bay Trail: Attendees shared the number of wheels they use on the Bay Trail, with responses ranging from two wheels (bikes) to three wheels (recumbent trikes) and even zero wheels (walking, running, rollerblading). Also emphasized was the immersive nature of the Trail, connecting the region, climate, and ocean.

Equity and Electric Bikes: One participant, Gerd Stieler, highlighted the benefits of electric bikes for elderly and disabled citizens, promoting equity and access.

- Concerns were raised about Palo Alto's ban on e-bikes on the Bay Trail, questioning the city's commitment to equity.

Types of Trips: Attendees mentioned various ways they use the Bay Trail, including commuting, recreation, biking, walking, running, and birdwatching.

Trail Conditions: Attendees provided feedback on Trail conditions, including navigation difficulties, small signs, narrow width, sharing issues with fast bikes, gravel surfaces, and dusty conditions behind other users of the Trail. Attendees also mentioned the need for improved signage, wider paths, paved sections, and better sharing practices.

Connectivity and Accessibility: Participants highlighted the importance of a connected Bay Trail for easy travel, with calls for improved bike connectivity, bridges, and closures of detours.

- Specific areas for improvement mentioned included the junction with the San Tomas Aquino Creek Trail, Moffett Channel, Stevens Creek, Mountain View Slough, University Ave/Hwy 84 intersection, and Cargill pond.

Amenities and Infrastructure: Stakeholders made suggestions for additional benches, trash receptacles, public restrooms, usage/wayfinding signage, bike parking at trailheads, bike cages, bike boxes, and improvements to bridge crossings. There was also a split between those that want more natural settings, like natural preserves, and retail amenities like cafes or food cart vendors.

Lighting and Light Pollution: Some raised concerns about the Twin Creeks sports complex causing excessive light pollution. Others identified the need for better lighting and visibility on the Trail after dark.

Wayfinding: Attendees praised the wayfinding signs in Alameda/Oakland, but expressed the need for improved wayfinding in other areas, particularly the peninsula side of the Bay.

Overall, the feedback highlighted the importance of equity, trail connectivity, improved conditions, amenities, and wayfinding to enhance the Bay Trail experience for all users.

Notable Comments Submitted During First Feedback Session:

Amit from Foster City:

Respectfully, in reading the MTC briefing doc, I did not feel all feedback is welcome. The bias of the author is fairly clear. The term "white" appears 28 times.

Suggest more people read the briefing document which MTC has prepared and draw their own conclusions. All for improving access for everyone, including communities that don't currently have connectivity to the Trail. This can be achieved without pitting people against one another.

Not looking to stir up debates on this topic, simply pointing out the disconnect between what has been stated in the email below (awesome!) vs. what the author has written in the briefing doc.

Have a great weekend everyone and thank you to SVBC for the awesome work.

Kristie from San Mateo:

I would love for the Bay Trail to be more accessible via public transit. Having frequent, reliable transit available throughout the day and from many different starting points throughout the Bay Area to get to the Bay Trail and Coyote Point would be one of the first steps to more equitable access to the Bay Trail.

Getting to the Bay Trail or Coyote Point from the San Mateo Main Library location takes nearly 1 hour by public transit versus 10 minutes by car.

Some SAMTRANS routes can move you towards the Bay Trail in Burlingame, or towards Coyote Point in San Mateo, but not all the way there, leaving a significant amount of time and distance still to be traversed before you get there. But by then, what time or energy is left to actually enjoy the Trail?

There is a commute.org shuttle that will take you all the way to the Bay Trail in Burlingame during rush hour. But you have to go all the way to Millbrae for that and backtrack to Burlingame. And it is only available during rush hour, not other times of the day, and it still takes an hour. There is no route that will take you all the way to Coyote Point.

I would love to be able to take the family to bike there after school some time, and enjoy it on the weekends, or any day of the week, as we first did when it was just right out the door of the hotel where we stayed when we first moved here.

Gerd from Redwood City:

The Bay Trail is basically broken in San Carlos and Redwood City.

Mark from San Carlos:

Bay Trail today is like an artery, but blocked and sometimes not taking me where I want to go easily... broken bike connectivity etc. Could be free flowing and a connector!!

Tony from San José:

I haven't done it in a while, but riding the trails from East San José to East Palo Alto, navigation is not straightforward and some sections are unpaved and rough. The Trail around Moffett is surprisingly good despite not being paved!

● Listening Session 2 – Staff Feedback

On Thursday, July 20, 2023, SVBC staff discussed the Equity Strategy and survey results. Staff members were asked to read the Equity Strategy document and scan responses to the survey. This listening session had 13 staff members in attendance.

Discussion questions included:

1. Initial Reactions to Strategy Document – what was your favorite part?
2. Survey results – what stood out?
3. What should MTC do next?

All staff members found the history of the Bay particularly interesting and had no criticisms of the document. Staff commented that the history of the Bay and the Trail is not well-known - perhaps indicating more information on the Trail and more public outreach needed to draw attention to it. Also, staff members questioned whether the public knows who MTC is and what its role for the Bay Trail is. A public outreach campaign may be necessary.

Staff praised the compensation of interviewees for the strategy. We felt that this was a great way to expand the diversity of voices, rather than having self-selected responses by those already acutely interested in the Bay Trail.

Another comment relating the history of the Bay to the future of the Trail, was fact that use of the Bay changed so drastically during WWII. This drastic use change indicates that with political will, we are capable of quick and significant infrastructure changes.

The main area of concern raised by staff members was how to implement all of the great feedback received and what role MTC will play. Regarding MTC's role, staff members raised the need for participating in community meetings that are already happening and getting people who are not focused on transportation issues to participate. The document focuses heavily on recreational use of the Trail and perhaps MTC could focus more on economic disparities going forward. To this end, perhaps socioeconomic status should be its own demographic.

SVBC suggests the following potential partners to further outreach:

- Peninsula YMCA
- San Mateo County Office of Education: Safe Routes to School
- Sienna Youth Center
- Youth United for Community Action
- Edgewood Center for Children & Family
- Youth Leadership Institute
- Live in Peace
- Friends for Youth
- Partners & Advocates for Remarkable Children & Adults

Staff generated a few suggestions for future study and implementation:

1. Consistent and visible wayfinding, both on the Trail itself as well as getting to the Trail.
2. Micro-mobility, both on and off the Trail. Many recreational trails have a vendor that provides rentals for bikes and other mobility vehicles. Also, providing means to get from city-centers and other originations to the trail without a car. SVBC would like to see a regional body such as MTC implement a regional micro-mobility program – and getting to the Bay Trail should be an extension of that program.
3. Where possible, separate uses of the Trail so that faster moving uses do not comeingle as much with slower-paces uses.
4. Shared use education. For those areas in which separation cannot be implemented, education on the need and etiquette of sharing multi-use trails is needed. SVBC education classes can support this programming.
5. Ride programming. SVBC continually hosts a wide-range of social rides. For example, SVBC partners with Santa Clara County's Annual Day on the Bay, leading a social ride.

Summary of In-Person Events

● San Mateo Bike Repair Clinic – June 3, 2023

On Saturday, June 3rd, 2023, SVBC hosted a community engagement with residents at Ryder Park in San Mateo, which is along the Bay Trail and within an MTC Equity Priority Community Area. The event included a free bike repair clinic and free snacks as an incentive for completing the Bay Trail Access Survey.

The event received 48 registrations for bike repair services from interested residents and about 30 bicycles had a safety inspection and/or were repaired free of charge. Of those that attended, about half completed the survey, with 22 survey responses coming from the event.

SVBC partnered with the following organizations for the event: Move San Mateo (SVBC local team) and Straight Wheel Cycling, a bike shop in San Mateo.

- South San Francisco Bike Repair Clinic, July 1, 2023

On Saturday, July 1st, 2023, SVBC partnered with the city of South San Francisco to conduct community engagement with residents during the South San Francisco Farmers Market at Orange Memorial Park, which is adjacent to an MTC Equity Priority Community Area. The event included a free bike repair clinic, free snacks, and a raffle to giveaway three debit cards as incentives for completing the Bay Trail Access Survey.

The event received nearly 60 registrations from interested residents and an estimated 40-50 bicycles had a safety inspection performed and/or were repaired free of charge. Of those that attended, nearly 30 completed the survey. We also engaged with about 5 more people who did not take the survey. One notable comment was the question, “where is the Bay Trail?”

SVBC partnered with the following agencies and organizations for the event: San Mateo County Office of Education Safe Routes to School, Coastside on Bikes, Straight Wheel Cycling, the City of South San Francisco, SafeMoves, and the West Coast Farmers Market Association.

Bay Trail Accessibility and Equity Survey

To better understand the challenges community members have experienced interacting with the Bay Trail, SVBC developed a short survey to collect feedback. Provided in Spanish and English. The survey questions were crafted to understand how community members currently interact with the Trail; which elements they do and do not enjoy; and how they would improve the Trail so it is more welcoming and accessible to everyone. The English survey had 79 responses. The Spanish survey had 3 responses.

Survey Distribution

SVBC solicited survey responses from its core team of advocates in San Mateo County. In addition, the survey was shared with community-based organizations that serve equity priority communities and underserved communities in San Mateo County. SVBC also organized two in-person events in San Mateo and South San Francisco, where staff and volunteers collected survey responses from community members.

After the survey collected basic demographic information, respondents saw slightly different questions based on whether they answered that they use the Bay Trail often, sometimes, or not at all. All individual responses and the spreadsheets compiling the responses are included in Appendix B.

Questions for those that indicated they use the Bay Trail often:

- What words or phrases come to mind when you think about the Bay Trail?
- How do you primarily use the Bay Trail?
- What do you love about the Bay Trail?
- What issues do you see with the Bay Trail?
- If you had all the power and resources in the world, what would you do to make the Bay Trail more accessible, useful, and inviting for you and your community, including people of all races, ages, abilities, and linguistic, and socio-economic backgrounds?
- Are there any other issues you see with the Bay Trail?

Questions for those that indicated they sometimes use the Bay Trail:

- What words or phrases come to mind when you think about the Bay Trail?
- I would use the trail more if...
- What do you like about the Bay Trail?
- Is there anything about the Bay Trail that makes you uncomfortable?
- Are there any difficulties for you to get to the Bay Trail?
- What stops you from using the Bay Trail?
- Is there anything about the Bay Trail that makes you uncomfortable?
- Are there certain incentives that would encourage you to be physically active on the Bay Trail?
- What words come to mind when you think of access to the Bay Trail?
- I would feel safer on the Bay Trail if...
- If you had all the power and resources in the world, what would you do to make the Bay Trail more accessible, useful, and inviting for you and your community, including people of all races, ages, abilities, and linguistic, and socio-economic backgrounds?
- Are there any other issues you see with the Bay Trail?

Questions for those that indicated they do not use the Bay Trail:

- What stops you from using the Bay Trail?
- Is there anything about the Bay Trail that makes you uncomfortable?
- Are there certain incentives that would encourage you to be physically active on the Bay Trail?
- What words come to mind when you think of access to the Bay Trail?
- I would feel safer on the Bay Trail if...
- If you had all the power and resources in the world, what would you do to make the Bay Trail more accessible, useful, and inviting for you and your community, including people of all races, ages, abilities, and linguistic, and socio-economic backgrounds?
- Are there any other issues you see with the Bay Trail?

Respondent Demographics

Gender

79 responses

There was a near split in the number of male and female respondents with just under four percent identifying as non-binary or preferring not to say.

Age

79 responses

The ages of survey respondents was diverse and reflected the diversity the survey was attempting to capture. The number forty helps us anchor our analysis with roughly half of respondents being under the age of forty and the other half above the age of forty.

Ethnicity (Check all that apply)

79 responses

The survey was completed by a majority of minority community members, including 45% from those who identify as asian, 15% for those who identify as hispanic, and 5% from other minority community members.

Bay Trail Usage

Most respondents said they use the Bay Trail and mostly for recreational purposes. Just 14% they used as their normal commute to and from points of interest.

Do you use the Bay Trail?

79 responses

How do you primarily use the Bay Trail?

71 responses

Positive Elements of the Bay Trail

The respondents provided positive feedback about the existing elements of the Bay Trail. They appreciate the peace and views, the car-free nature of the Trail, the wide-open space, and isolation from the urban and suburban centers. Also highlighted were the Trail's location next to the water with access to the waterfront, natural preserves, wildlife, and parks. Community members like the Trail being welcoming to families enjoying bike rides and outings to nearby parks, as well as several amenities that made trips more convenient like rest stops.

The ease, cleanliness, and fresh air were additional positive aspects. Overall, the respondents valued the Trail for its beauty, connection between cities, safety, accessibility, views of the Bay, and opportunities for outdoor activities.

Negative Elements of the Bay Trail:

The respondents highlighted various issues and areas for improvement, including specific problem areas, such as unpaved sections, potholes, and blocked paths due to construction. They expressed the need for more maps, highway overpasses, and greening to provide comfort and shade to retreat from the sun. Concerns were also raised about trail etiquette between pedestrians and bicyclists. Respondents reported issues with closed sections, parking distance, dogs off leash, darkness at night, and homeless activity. In addition, concerns were raised about constrained pathways, sparse signage, root problems, lack of cleanliness, pollution, dangerous road crossings, excessive speed of electric bikes and scooters, and proximity to traffic.

Respondent Recommended Improvements and Amenities:

The respondents provided several suggestions for improving the Trail based on the survey question. They stressed the need to prioritize ADA access at every entrance, signage and lighting, access on connecting roads, and separating pedestrian and bicycle paths and connections to arterial trails.

Suggestions for improved amenities include:

- providing free bikes for public use,

- holding community events,
- incorporating shops, cafes, and restaurants to encourage more patronage
- bulletin boards to rotate facts and information over time
- convenient access to park vehicles
- transportation from major transportation hubs, including shared micro mobility
- more bathrooms at regular intervals
- consistent animal feces cleanup

Gap closure and Connectivity

The respondents provided feedback on the difficulties they face in accessing the Bay Trail. Some mentioned the distance they have to travel to reach the Trail, while others highlighted specific challenges such as crossing busy highways, navigating through traffic, and encountering unsafe roads or areas.

Limited signage and access routes were also mentioned as difficulties. Construction, temporary trail closures, and inadequate detours were cited as obstacles. A few respondents expressed concerns about the safety of accessing the Trail, particularly for families and children. Some mentioned the lack of multimodal paths and safe access from certain areas. Overall, the difficulties mentioned included distance, highway crossings, traffic navigation, lack of signage, construction disruptions, and safety concerns.

With respect to areas that require special attention and potential closures of gaps along the Bay Trail, respondents specifically named the following areas as challenging to navigate:

- Needs to be more paved sections near the East Palo Alto substation/construction and potholes should be filled along the areas that are paved.
- The Redwood City stretch does not connect near Bair Island because it is blocked by construction.
- Sections near San Mateo and Foster City along the Trail are closed for long periods due to construction.
- Better connectivity from the Tanforan Shopping Center and San Bruno BART station.
- Better connectivity from the Centennial Trail in South San Francisco.
- Create Brisbane Baylands trail along Highway 101 to connect to Lagoon Road.
- Better bicycle and pedestrian infrastructure to Trail from the North Central neighborhood in San Mateo.

Phase II Recommendations

As the MTC moves into the next phase of the Bay Trail Equity Study, there are several elements we recommend the agency emphasize to improve equitable access, encourage multi-modal commuter trips, and promote trail etiquette that centers the most vulnerable users.

Consistent and visible wayfinding

It is vital that consistent and visible wayfinding, both on the Trail itself and on the way to the Trail, be prioritized so community members can easily locate the Trail and understand where the next part continues. In its current condition, the Trail includes a patch work of off-street and on-street routes that can be difficult to navigate and intimidating for inexperienced users. Signage and wayfinding indicating points of interests, the start of on-street portions of the Trail, and potential obstructions (e.g., construction) can mightily improve accessibility.

Balancing Amenities and Preserving Nature

While some people enjoy the scenic views and natural elements of the Bay Trail, others would enjoy modern amenities like restaurants, shops, and café along the Trail to rest and patron. It is possible for the Trail to accommodate both, but it must be done in a thoughtful manner prioritizing the environmental impacts of any future developments on the Trail.

Micro-mobility, Both on and off the Trail

Featuring shared micro-mobility devices as an amenity for users can help promote trips from city centers to the Bay Trail and potentially commuter trips to neighboring cities. San Mateo County recently completed its study on developing a county-wide shared micro-mobility program that would allow users to travel to other cities in the county. SVBC would like to see MTC work with the county to place devices on the Trail. Moreover, we recommend MTC go a step further and implement a regional micro-mobility program that is seamless in terms of payment and access.

Dedicated Facilities for Different Modes

One of the drawbacks of a single, shared-use path is the limited space for users and the potential for conflict between those who travel at a greater speed than a pedestrian. We recommend, where possible, to separate uses of the Trail so that faster moving uses do not comeingle as much with slower-paced uses. This allows faster moving users a greater margin for error and can reduce to risk of serious injury in an emergency.

Shared Use Education

Improving accessibility means improving comfort for the most vulnerable users of the Trail. Although there are some rules posted, not everyone reads them or adheres to them. Rather than move toward enforcement, the MTC and its local partners should educate users on proper trail etiquette to create a more inclusive environment for all. SVBC's education classes can support this programming.

Encouragement and Community Engagement

It's not enough to build the infrastructure. It's just as important to encourage the community to use the Trail and become a part of the planning process. We recommend that a robust social ride programming be a vital piece of the work MTC does on the Bay Trail. SVBC continually hosts a wide range of social rides throughout the year to promote biking and community service. For example, SVBC partners with Santa Clara County's Annual Day on the Bay and helps deliver fresh produce to eastside families in San Jose. SVBC would gladly explore opportunities to partner with the MTC in developing programs in the future.

Cohesive Planning Between Cities

Considering the Trail runs through many local jurisdictions responsible for developing and maintaining their portions of the Trail, it is imperative the MTC works create shared standards between cities to ensure continuity in accessibility. The quality of the Trail, wayfinding, maintenance, or access to ADA ramps should not be predicated on the jurisdiction. We recommend the MTC use the power of grantmaking to require cities to incorporate elements forged from the Bay Trail Equity Study into future Bay Trail projects. Additionally, cities should be required to prioritize outreach to community-based organizations serving communities of color in the respective jurisdiction.

00:38:11 Gerd Stieler (RWC): Laura Friedman created AB1909 to reduce discrimination against eBikes. AARP says eBikes are the best way to get elderly and disabled citizens back to riding. It's great for heart, kidneys, even Alzheimers and Parkinsons. eBikes are also meant to help lower-income residents getting around without cars. They are increasing equity and equitable access to many locations. And yet, Palo Alto's BPAC and city council bans elderly and people with disabilities from the SF Bay Trail and HMB banned e-Bikes from the Coastal Trail. These cities seem to be testing you on your call for "Equity". What is MTC's and SVBC's answer?

00:39:20 Mark Bauhaus - San Carlos: Lilly - how do ebikes fit into the equity and access plan? As one way to make cycling appealing and easy for more people for fun and work and errands?

00:49:33 Chris Parry, MV: Walking for area around Shoreline Park, yes

00:49:35 Emil Abraham: bike

00:49:38 Silja Paymer: I walk and bike

00:49:46 Frank Viggiano, Palo Alto (he,him): I do also walk and sometimes run the trail, in addition to cycling

00:49:48 Sandhya Laddha SVBC she/her: Walk and bike

00:49:53 Peter Capetz: Not necessarily a concern, but there is a noticeable difference when an e-bike is on the trail
00:50:02 David Coale Palo Alto: One place I saw a great sign, "Keep right, pass left". There should be more of these. This is very good for mixed use trails.
00:50:10 Gerd Stieler (RWC): we go EBirding in Hayward, Alviso, Mountain View, Palo Alto, which requires biking and walking
00:51:15 Arley Lewis, San Carlos, he/him: I walk the dog, run, and bike on the trail. The gravel sections are a forgiving surface for walking and running (and OK for biking).

00:53:12 Dhawal Kataria: Is the 15 mph speed limit throughout the bay trail?
00:53:35 April Webster: +1 on usage signage
00:54:28 Gerd Stieler (RWC): more bike cages and more bike boxes everywhere please.
00:54:43 April Webster: The new bridges and benches/eating areas near Dumbarton are quite a nice addition
00:55:23 Chris Parry, MV: I agree with the comment that the trail is an artery and any break disrupts circulation.
00:55:38 Nahid Varjavand: Thanks so much for this opportunity. After submitting this I will need to leave the meeting. So, bye everyone! On behalf of my commuting husband Daniel Friebel:
*It would be nice if the section from the junction with the San Tomas Aquino Creek Trail to the junction with Stevens Creek Trail could be paved.
*It would be good if the detours with sharp turns around Moffett Channel, Stevens Creek, and Mountain View Slough could be cut off with new bridges.
*The University Ave/Hwy 84 intersection should have one over/underpass for bikes to get from Dumbarton Bridge or East Palo Alto to the trail that loops around Hacker way without stopping and having to wait twice to cross the cars.

*NW of Marsh Rd, the Cargill pond needs to be shut down, renatured, and a paved trail made to connect between Marsh Rd and Seaport Rd. (There are rumors about a bike path from Seaport to Veterans/Chestnut along the train tracks being considered. That should be expedited.)

*Near Twin Creeks, the bridge crossing East Channel has had the trail eroded from its ends. Riding over these edges is very uncomfortable.

* The Twin Creeks sports complex causes massive light pollution, lighting up a huge area of supposedly wildlife refuge. After dark the trail becomes nearly impassable here because you get blinded by these floodlights.

00:55:45 David Coale Palo Alto: The way finding signs in Alameda/Oakland are great. Way finding in other places are not so good.

00:56:16 Gerd Stieler (RWC): exactly. East Bay is much better than Peninsula and south bay on this

00:56:23 Leslie Fong: I'm not that familiar with this trail. Does anyone know where it starts and end?

00:56:29 Frank Viggiano, Palo Alto (he,him): I agree that it being car-free, safe, and having no stops for traffic lights make it very nice for biking longer distances!

01:08:04 Gerd Stieler (RWC): In case you missed my important question:
Laura Friedman created AB1909 to reduce discrimination against eBikes.
AARP says eBikes are the best way to get elderly and disabled citizens back to riding. It's great for heart, kidneys, even Alzheimers and Parkinsons. eBikes are also meant to help lower-income residents getting around without cars. They are increasing equity and equitable access to many locations.
And yet, Palo Alto's BPAC and city council bans elderly and people with disabilities from the SF Bay Trail and HMB banned e-Bikes from the Coastal Trail.
These cities seem to be testing you on your call for "Equity". What is MTC's and SVBC's answer?
01:08:20 Penny Ellson: I had added bike parking at trailheads, but i's not on the board.
01:08:35 Betsy Megas, Santa Clara: Where should we send brilliant ideas when we think of them tomorrow?
01:08:47 Mark Bauhaus - San Carlos: Ebikes are essential to be embraced and included. They must behave well like we all do.

01:10:44 Gerd Stieler (RWC): Ebikes are great for commuting fast, they can ride slow for recreational purpose.

01:13:26 Peter Capetz: yes, it's a rider responsibility concern :)
01:13:36 Mark Bauhaus - San Carlos: I can exceed the speed limit by running or riding or ebiking. The key is appropriate behavioral expectations (eg speed limit) that are inclusive to the point of equity and access.

If you had all the power and resources in the world, what would you do to make the Bay Trail more accessible, useful, and inviting for you and your community, including people of all races, ages, abilities, and linguistic, and socio-economic backgrounds?

I would add destinations that would make it appealing to more diverse folks. My lower income and less outdoorsy friends state reasons for not liking nature as "too far from snacks" and "nothing to do". Maybe 1 snack stall on or just off the trail per municipality it passes through could help encourage ALL people that the trail IS for them, and there are snacks they can walk/roll to go have fun purchasing!

Crossing Highway 101 sometimes... generally, not really.

If you had all the power and resources in the world, what would you do to make the Bay Trail more accessible, useful, and inviting for you and your community, including people of all races, ages, abilities, and linguistic, and socio-economic backgrounds?

Connect it with all other trails in our region and develop a trail network. To make it more accessible, I'll improve other urban bicycle and pedestrian connections to the trail. To make it useful, we will need more restrooms, water fountains, signage and park connections.

Are there any difficulties for you to get to the Bay Trail? *

Yes, I don't own a car and nearest trailhead near me is 3 miles away. I live on the street with no bikeways.

What do you love about the Bay Trail? *

You feel free from traffic and congestion and can enjoy nature

What issues do you see with the Bay Trail? *

Not well enough marked - easy to get on the wrong spur, not always easy to get to, in places it is too circuitous to be used for commuting, closed-off seasonally or for football games at Levi's Stadium.

If you had all the power and resources in the world, what would you do to make the Bay Trail more accessible, useful, and inviting for you and your community, including people of all races, ages, abilities, and linguistic, and socio-economic backgrounds?

more signage, make clear what vehicles (e.g. e-bikes, one-wheels, etc.) can use it, take advantage of the fact that many bordering communities include people of color. i do see usage by locals in those areas an perhaps we can do more by making sure access is clear and safe.

Are there any difficulties for you to get to the Bay Trail? *

Not really. But more signage would be better.

What issues do you see with the Bay Trail? *

I wish it weren't so disconnected. I want to be able to ride up and down the peninsula seamlessly without having to leave the bay trail. I also think it could benefit from better signage on and around the bay trail (maps, directions, etc)

If you had all the power and resources in the world, what would you do to make the Bay Trail more accessible, useful, and inviting for you and your community, including people of all races, ages, abilities, and linguistic, and socio-economic backgrounds?

Make the roads that enter the bay trail safer! I know of some people who are discouraged from using it because they don't feel safe riding from their own neighborhoods. I live around North Central and notice that there's not much bike or pedestrian infrastructure leading up to the bay trail so I know a lot of folks don't feel safe safe going all the way towards the trail.

Are there any difficulties for you to get to the Bay Trail? *

The Monte Diablo road path that leads up to the Bay Trail isn't the safest, particularly around MLK Jr. park...this is a shame because I see so many kids and families walking/biking around there to get to the trail but I'm often afraid they'll get hit by a car

Bay Trail Use

What words or phrases come to mind when you think about the Bay Trail? *

Family-friendly, exciting, long in a good way

Do you use the Bay Trail? *

- No, never

Experiences with the Bay Trail

How do you primarily use the Bay Trail? *

- Recreation
- Commuting
- Other: _____

What do you love about the Bay Trail? *

How there is more than the trail. It runs along parks and points of interest so there's lots of stopping points.

What issues do you see with the Bay Trail? *

Sections of constrained pathways making it difficult for both bikes and pedestrians to share. Sparse signage.

If you had all the power and resources in the world, what would you do to make the Bay Trail more accessible, useful, and inviting for you and your community, including people of all races, ages, abilities, and linguistic, and socio-economic backgrounds?

Add signage and maps that call out points of interest and facts about the trail/area. Maybe bulletin board style so facts and info can be rotated out over time.

Are there any difficulties for you to get to the Bay Trail? *

Construction. Especially temporary trail construction does not always have good detours. As a biker I don't want to be diverted off a sandy path onto a vehicle road as a detour - that's not safe.

What do you love about the Bay Trail? *

For bicyclists, it can be a safe & beautiful way to travel across cities. It's far enough away from car traffic that it allows for relatively quiet & thoughtful walking & running as well. A nice way to enjoy good weather, for free!

What issues do you see with the Bay Trail? *

Some parts seem hard to access. Not all of it is clearly marked, to the point where there appear to be gaps.

If you had all the power and resources in the world, what would you do to make the Bay Trail more accessible, useful, and inviting for you and your community, including people of all races, ages, abilities, and linguistic, and socio-economic backgrounds?

I would ensure that as much of it as possible faces the Bay and allows for transportation & enjoyment separate from car traffic. I would ensure that it could be accessed conveniently in each city by those in cars, transit, bikes, micromobility & pedestrians.

Are there any difficulties for you to get to the Bay Trail? *

Yes. I currently live on the other side of US 101 from my city's entry points, and there are not enough multimodal paths for those living near me to access it safely.

- I'm not interested
- I don't feel welcome
- I feel unsafe
- I don't ride a bike
- There are too many bikes for me to run or walk there
- Other: Too hard to get there, no public transit to get there

Is there anything about the Bay Trail that makes you uncomfortable?

Air plane pollution, landfill pollution, water quality

Are there certain incentives that would encourage you to be physically active on the Bay Trail? *

- Bike rebates
- Group ride programs
- Events
- Exercise equipment
- More wild life preservation areas
- Other: Being able to get there via public transit, better understanding pollution and exposure risks

What words come to mind when you think of access to the Bay Trail? *

Inaccessible, vehicle-centric

I would feel safer on the Bay Trail if... *

- There was better lighting
- There were fewer fast bikes
- More people there looked like me
- There were more events for me to attend there
- It was cleaner

If you had all the power and resources in the world, what would you do to make the Bay Trail more accessible, useful, and inviting for you and your community, including people of all races, ages, abilities, and linguistic, and socio-economic backgrounds?

Clean up all pollution and eliminate all future sources of pollution, algae blooms, etc.

Have direct, frequent and reliable transportation that would take you to and from different access points on the Bay Trail, so you could take your bike on the bus to get there, spend your energy riding the bike on the trail, and then take your bike back on the bus from some other car point on the trail back home, instead of having to go a certain distance and turn around to go back to your original starting point in order to take transit home. But just having any transit options would be great!

Are there any other issues you see with the Bay Trail?

Having interspersed activities for kids along the way and a map for where those are and the distances between them and transit access from them mapped out would be great also!
